Preamble

- The institute takes the following initiatives to provide alternate source of energy
- The institute employs many strategies to effectively handle different categories of waste, aiming to minimise waste generation and promote the practice of repurposing, in collaboration with other authorities. The Institute implements the idea of reduce, reuse, and recycle to address the waste produced.
- The Institute has effectively executed a rainwater harvesting project, resulting in substantial cost savings and the preservation of the campus ecology. An interconnected system of rainwater gathering structures guarantees a consistent replenishment of groundwater levels.
